Premier De Gasperi Sees "U. S. of Europe"

By The Associated Press

ROME, March 22 — Premier Alcide De Gasperi conferred for three hours today with French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and said afterward:

"We are going, I think, toward a United States of Europe."

Bidault announced Saturday the United States, Great Britain and France propose to give Trieste, now international territory, back to Italy. He met the Italian leader at tiny Crea, in the Piedmont region about 50 miles form Turin.

De Gasperi told a news conference the Bidault announcement was a thing "bigger than we are, bigger than Italy and France, bigger than the Italian elections."

The two will lunch togethes. Bidault will leave for Paris by train tonight. De Gasperi will make a political speech at Casale, near Crea.

Italians were deprived of newspaper accounts today of Trieste and the Italian political campaign. More than 1,000 dailies throughout the country were shut down last midnight by a 24-hour printers' strike for higher pay. Upward of 100,000 men were called out by their Communist-led union.

De Gasperi and Bidault, it was believed, were planning to talk over the political situation in Italy and France, where Communists bid strongly for power.

The Frenchman disclosed in Turin Saturday that the United States, Britain and France propose to give the Adriatic seaport of Trieste back to Italy.

A three-power announcement on Trieste was made later in Washington. The western powers invited Russia and Italy to talk about changing the six-month-old Italian peace treaty, which made Trieste and environs a free territory. Italy and Communist Yugoslavia both want the port. The territory now is occupied by U. S., British and Yugoslav troops.

(The Moscow radio said last night "the United States, Britain and France are acting behind the back of the Soviet Union in proposing to revise the peace treaty with Italy.")

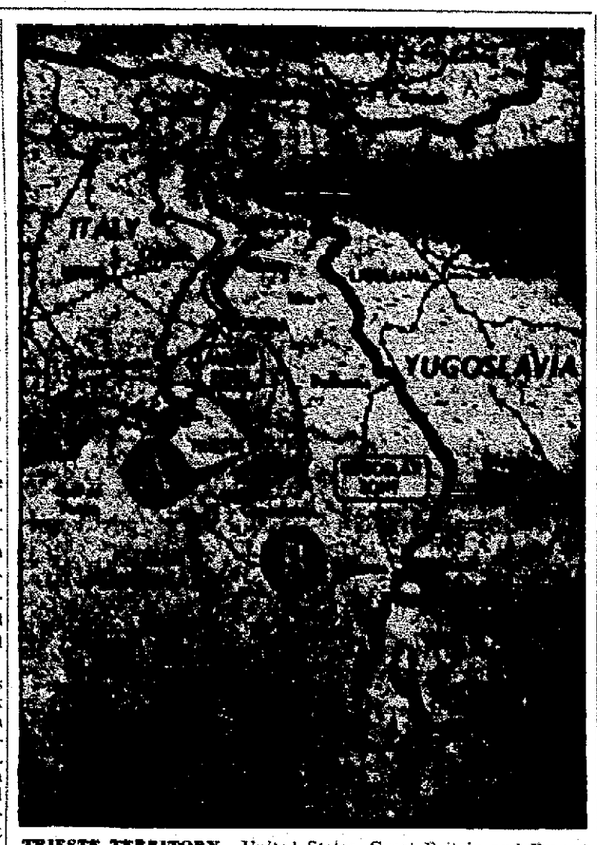
News of the proposal led to fist fights yesterday in Trieste and Milan. It brought approval from many Italians, criticism in Communist eastern Europe and a doubtful response from some Triestinos. Borba, Belgrade Communist newspaper, gave a hint of the official Yugoslav attitude. It reported the news briefly under the headline, "Imperialist maneuvers with Trieste before Italian elections."

Teachers Strike At Minneapolis Ended

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, March 22—The month-old strike of Minneapolis public school teachers was at an end today.

A compromise agreement on wage demands reached last night sent the teachers back to their classrooms today with a pledge of permanent pay boosts ranging from $20 to $40 a month.



TRIESTE TERRITORY. United States, Great Britain and France proposed the return of free territory surrounding Trieste (A) to Italy. The three powers charged Yugoslav-occupied area (B) of zone has been virtually incorporated into Yugoslavia. Many Italians were reported to have fled Pola (C) and nearby area which is under Yugoslav control.

6 MARION BOYS IN MISHAP AT BRIDGE EAST OF KENTON

Two Marion boys are dead today and four lie seriously injured in Marion and Kenton hospitals following a head-on crash into a concrete bridge by the car in which they were riding.

The accident occurred at 3:15 p. m. yesterday, six miles east of Kenton on route 30-S at a bridge located 3½ miles west of the Marion-Hardin county line.

The dead are Charles Willis Pace, 19, of 716 South Prospect street, and Richard Arden Eckert, 18, of 693 Windsor street.

The injured are Forrest Glen Massie, 19, 893 Cheney avenue, driver of the car; Charles Fredrick Ulrich, 17, of 606 Delaware avenue; Warren Jay Meister, 18, of 140 Curtis Court; and Jack P. Rubins, 20, of 941 South Prospect street.

All of the youths were pupils or recent graduates of Harding High school.

State patrolmen from Marion sub station who arrived on the scene at 3:35 p. m. could give no definite cause for the accident.

Charles Pace was killed instantly. The body was taken to the Price funeral home in Kenton and later removed to the Hughes Mortuary in Marion. Hardin county coroner, Dr. John A. Mooney, said death was caused by internal injuries.

Richard Eckert was pronounced dead shortly after arriving at San Antonio hospital in Kenton. He was injured internally and also suffered head injuries, compound fracture of the left leg and severe bruises of the left temple.

Massie, Ulrich, Meister and Rubins also were rushed to San Antonio hospital. All but Rubins were removed to City hospital in Marion last night by Schaffner-Denzer ambulance. He remains in San Antonio hospital this morning where his condition is given by hospital attaches at 1:15 today as "critical." He suffered a fractured nose, fractured jaw, compound fracture of the right leg, possible fractured skull, lacerations, bruises and shock.

Driver's Injuries

Glen Massie, driver of the car, suffered a fractured right ankle, fractured left knee, severe lacerations, shock and bruises. Condition this morning, "fair."

Charles Ulrich suffered a fractured right leg, fractured nose, possible skull fracture, lacerations and bruises. Condition this morning given as "fair."

Warren Meister suffered a dislocated hip, shock, lacerations, and bruises. His condition is "fair."

Out for Drive

The boys were out for a Sunday afternoon drive. While parents were unable to say definitely, it is believed they may have decided to go to the Massie cottage at Indian Lake and were enroute there when the accident occurred.

Patrolmen at the Marion substation said cause of the accident could not be definitely determined since no one was near at the time. The bridge is on a straight stretch of highway.

Marion people who visited the scene afterward said there were tire tracks in the mud, indicating the car left the hard surfaced road before the crash. A strong wind was blowing over the area Sunday afternoon and it is believed this might have caused the car to veer from the roadway onto the soft berm.

The car, a 1947 sedan owned by Massie, was demolished, patrolmen reported. Force of the collision drove the engine into the front seat compartment.

State patrolmen and ambulances were summoned to the scene by the Kenton fire department which was notified of the accident by an unidentified person who called from near the scene. Adverse radio conditions prevented firemen on duty from radio contact with the patrol and the Marion sub station was reached by phone. When patrolmen arrived on the scene at 3:35 p. m. the injured youths had been removed to San Antonio hospital in Schiendewolf, Price, and Porter-Hull ambulances.

High School Friends

All six accident victims were high school friends, and three of the boys were home from college for visits with their parents. The boys, all members of Marion Chapter No. 288, Order of DeMolay, had attended a DeMolay sunrise service and breakfast at Hotel Harding Sunday morning, which was in commemoration of the founding of the Order of DeMolay.

Another youth, Frank Stewart of 363 Hane avenue, a close friend of the six boys, was to have gone along on the ride. The seven boys had been together throughout the morning Sunday and had broken up at 12:30 to go to their respective homes for dinner. Stewart said they had planned to leave on a ride between 1:30 and 2 o'clock and that they were to call him before coming for him. However, he said he fell asleep following dinner and evidently didn't hear the telephone when they called so the group didn't stop for him. He is employed at the Sutton & Lightner store.

Glenn Massie, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Massie of 893 Cheney avenue, is present master councilor of the Marion DeMolay chapter, and presided for the meeting Sunday morning at which time the initiatory and DeMolay degrees were conferred. Charles F. Ulrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Ulrich of 606 Delaware avenue, present junior councilor of the chapter, also filled his office for the meeting. Jack Rubins, in the initiatory degree ceremony, took the part of acting senior deacon, and in the DeMolay degree ceremony, he portrayed the character of Jacques DeMolay. Rubins and his father, Paul F. Rubins, reside with his sister, Mrs. Carroll Metx at 941 South Prospect street.

Richard Eckert, a past master councilor of DeMolay and a member of the DeMolay Past Masters Association, also attended a semi-annual meeting of the association Saturday night at Hotel Harding. The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Eckert of 693 Windsor street, he was enrolled in the General Motors Institute in Flint, Mich., and was at the present time working in Dayton as a part of his co-operative course.

Graduated in June

Active in school affairs, Eckert was graduated from Harding High school in June last year in the general course. During his senior year, he served as business manager on the staff of the "Quiver," the high school year book, and was a member of the cap and gown committee. He served as vice president of his sophomore class, as vice president of Hi-Y in his freshman and sophomore years and as president in the latter two years, was a member of the junior prom committee in his junior year, the National Honor Society, the Red Cross Council, Ye Merrie Players, the Chess club, and went out for football when a freshman.

Charles Pace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pace, was enrolled in Ohio State university where he had been pledged to Phi Delta Theta fraternity. Graduating from Harding High school in 1945 in the general course, he had been a member of the Harding band for four years, a member of the Hi-Y for four years, and Ye Merrie Players in his senior year. He had also played home room baseball and basketball while at Harding. Pace was also a past master councilor of DeMolay.

Also home for a visit was Warren J. Meister, a student at Kent State university. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Meister of 140 Curtis court. Meister was graduated from Harding in June of last year. During that year he was a manager of the football squad. He was a member of the Hi-Y club while a sophomore, junior and senior, and was a member of the Chess club.

Glen Massie was also graduated from Harding last June. He served as treasurer of his junior class, was a member of the a cappella choir in the senior year, a member of the Hi-Y as a sophomore and junior, member of the basketball squad when a sophomore and junior, and was in the casts of both the junior and senior plays in his respective years at Harding. He also belonged to Ye Merrie Players.

Charles F. Ulrich, a member of the junior class at Harding this year, was assistant basketball manager during the basketball season. Jack Rubins, a senior at Harding, is employed part-time at the Anson Pickerel Clothing

County Windstorm Damage Set As High As Half Million

Insurance agencies here were still being swamped today with property loss claims resulting from the violent winds that took a heavy toll in Marion county and vicinity Friday afternoon.

One Marion agent declared the wind damage to be the most extensive in 28 years. He estimated property damage would run at least $500,000 in Marion county.

Agencies received anywhere from 40 to 75 calls Saturday and were still receiving loss reports this morning, a check of insurance offices in Marion showed.

Property loss was reported to range from minor damage to city and rural property to near destruction of a number of barns in different sections of Marion and adjoining counties.

Tabulation Incomplete

The heavy volume of claims pouring into virtually all insurance offices has made it impossible as yet to tabulate with any accuracy the full extent of damage, it was reported. A number of agencies said they have been able to do little more than compile their list of claims.

Several indicated that it would be several months before all claims could be adjusted and all bills received and paid. They pointed to the difficulty of obtaining quick action on repair jobs as a big factor in holding up claims settlement.

Repair work on property will range anywhere from putting in windows and repairing roofs and chimneys to rebuilding barns and other outbuildings either severely damaged or leveled completely. Agents expressed concern over being able to get hold of carpenters, masons and construction men without delay.

Barn Demolished

A local agent reported a 70 by 50 foot barn on the Effie Slack farm northeast of Denmark reduced to a pile of rubble. It was valued at $5,000. The agent said it couldn't be replaced today for less than $7,000. On the same farm, a chicken house 20 by 40 feet was picked up by the wind, slammed against another building and demolished.

Wilbur Ault, farmer north of Denmark, lost one large barn and half of another. The first which measured approximately 40 by 80 feet, was lifted off its foundation and collapsed. The second, an L shaped structure, lost a wing, the wind taking one-half of the building and leaving the rest intact. Loss included damage to about 40 tons of hay and a cow killed when the barn collapsed.

Similar damage was reported from virtually every section of the county. A chicken house on the William Vermillion farm near Prospect was lifted off its foundation, carried several feet and left in a wrecked condition. Wind took the roof off a big barn near Martel, including joists and rafters but left the walls standing.

At least three barns went down near Richwood. A large barn on the Walter Knight farm on the Hoskins pike east of the village was completely flattened, so was a similar structure on the farm of J. E. Cramer on Route 4 two miles south of Richwood. Harold Tennant of near Richwood also reported a barn leveled by the vicious wind Friday afternoon.

One agency reported many claims coming from the southern and western sections of the county, most of which comprised damage to roofs, sheds and smaller outbuildings.

SCHOOLS OF COUNTY GET 14 NEW BUSES

Those Unfit for Service Being Replaced.

Fourteen new buses have been purchased by county schools in an effort to replace all buses, 10 years old, and others in bad condition. Two more new buses have been applied for, D. T. Mills, county school superintendent said today.

Eight buses have been purchased by Pleasant township school, four by Waldo, two by Claridon, and applications for two have been filed by LaRue and Meeker schools.

Buses are still being rationed by the state department of education to assure an equitable distribution to all schools on the basis of placing the most new ones where the need for them is greatest.

Every-pupil tests for all 12 grades of county schools will be distributed to principals of the various schools this week.

The tests will be given by the instructors of each school and will test the student's knowledge of arithmetic, English, languages, science, American government, current events, and citizenship. The purpose of the tests will be to serve as a guide to the faculties of the schools to indicate which subjects are being most readily learned by the students.

Asks Liquor Sale Ban Save in State Stores

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, March 22 — A prominent Columbus minister recommended today that Ohio ban sale of liquor in all places except state liquor stores.

The recommendation was made by Rev. Roy A. Burkhart, pastor of First Community church in Columbus, as a two-day Ohio conference on alcoholism began in the capital city.

Burkhart shared the floor with Dr. Douglas Goldman, clinical director of the Longview State Hospital at Cincinnati; State Health Director John D. Porterfield, and Municipal Court Judge Lewis Drucker of Cleveland.

Each presented the views of his profession on the problem of alcoholism in Ohio, under the moderation of Msgr. Robert A. Maher, director of health and hospital services for the Toledo Catholic diocese.

GOP TAX-CUT BILL HEADS FOR PASSAGE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22—The Republicans' $4,800,000,000 income tax-cutting bill headed for certain passage in the senate late today.

The balloting was due to start at 5 p. m. on all remaining amendments, then on the bill itself.

GOP leaders predicted enough Democrats would join them to roll up a two-thirds majority for the measure. Most Democrats opposed to the bill agreed that would happen.

But some opponents insisted a two-thirds margin could not be maintained against the veto the Republicans say they expect. It would have to be—in both the senate and house—to override President Truman's disapproval.

However, Republican hopes that a veto could be killed remained high. It was put into words by the party's newest convert to tax reduction, Senator Morse of Oregon. He told a reporter:

"Overriding a veto is in the bag."

The GOP optimism on this point got still another shot in the arm over the week-end.

It came when Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the house ways and means committee forecast that the house would accept the senate's $4,800,000,000 figure without even the usual conference.

SAYS U. S. SURVIVAL AT STAKE IN PROGRAM

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22 — The house foreign affairs committee said today "the very survival of the United States" is at stake in the present program to stop Communism and help Europe recover economically.

It expressed that belief in a written statement sent to the house with a $6,205,000,000 bill to help Europe and China.

The bill is to come up in the house tomorrow. Passage by next week is virtually assured.

The bill is one answer to the fears openly expressed in congress and at the White House that Russia wants to turn China and all of Europe into Communist states.

Leaders hope to start house debate on the global measure tomorrow and drive it to passage by the middle of next week. But first the rules committee must decide on the parliamentary procedure.

SENATORS ASK SECRET DATA

Hope To Find Out "If and Where We Intend To Fight."

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22—Senators called on the Truman administration today for secret data on the cold war with Communism.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) told a reporter the armed services committee hopes to find out from Secretary of State Marshall and Secretary of Defense Forrestal "if and where we intend to fight."

Both cabinet officers were summoned to a closed door meeting this afternoon. The session was called to consider President Truman's plea for temporary revival of the wartime draft and for immediate enactment of universal military training.

It was to be Marshall's second appearance of the day on Capitol Hill. He was invited to sit in with Senate foreign relations committee members during their final study of a bill to provide $570,000,000 in economic aid to China.

Faces Busy Schedule

Just back from a series of west coast speeches on the administration's new stop-Russia policy, Marshall faced a busy schedule on top of his congressional engagements. At the state department, three critical issues have arisen.

They involve: (1) a possible Russian crackdown on the western powers in Berlin, (2) uncertainty over whether violence may flare in Trieste as a result of the surprise proposal to return that strategic port city to Italy and (3) this country's about-face on the earlier decision to partition Palestine.

As for Marshall's and Forrestal's date with the armed services committee, Bridges said he isn't sure that either will be willing to draw any line in Europe beyond which further Communist encroachment might call for American military action.

The draft plan got a weekend nudge for Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the senate's Republican policy committee.

Taft said in a Springfield, Ohio, speech:

"If it can be shown that there is no other way in which to get the men necessary for the force determined to be essential for defense, there seems no escape from setting up temporarily the selective draft machinery."

Opposed UMT

Taft vigorously opposed UMT. So his statement seemed to add up to acceptance of the draft as an alternative. But like many of his colleagues, the Ohioan said he wants to know more about the state of military defenses.

Challenging Marshall's statement last week that the armed services are a "hollow shell," Taft said if this is true "it is the final indictment of an administration" which had $10,500,000,000 to spend on defense this year.

Trieste Move Is Protested By Yugoslavia

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 22 — The Yugoslav government protested to the western powers today that their proposal on Trieste will not strengthen the peace in central Europe.

Tanjug, official Yugoslav news agency, said a note was presented to the United States, British, and French ambassadors in Belgrade by the Yugoslav foreign minister, Stanoje Simic.

Premier Marshal Tito's government made pointed note that the proposal to restore Trieste to Italy come only four weeks before the Italian elections.

It declared:

"The Yugoslav government considers that submitting such a proposal at the time of the pre-electoral campaign in Italy can serve only the fomenting of chauvinist hatred towards the Yugoslav people and, on the other hand, towards the sharpening of internal political relations in Italy.

"Neither is it in the interests, either of the Italian people itself or the strengthening of peace in this part of Europe."

By The Associated Press

PRAGUE, March 22 — Czechoslovakia's new Communist foreign minister today assailed the proposal to return Trieste to Italy as part of a trend to "change the results of the second World War."

EXPECT JEWS TO PROCLAIM STATE

By The Associated Press

TEL AVIV, Palestine, March 22—A Jewish state to be defended by Jewish arms is expected to be proclaimed in Palestine today or tomorrow.

A reliable informant said a formal order proclaiming the existence of such a state will be made by Vaad Leumi—the Jewish national council. No official announcement has yet been made by the council itself.

(In New York City, Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, chairman of the American section of the agency, said it was "logical" for Zionists to proclaim a state.)

Such a proclamation by the national council would repudiate in advance any United Nations trusteeship, defy Arab arms and be a step towards appeal for international recognition.

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATION

CHRIST in You, ✝ THE HOPE of Glory

THE CHRIST OF THE CROSS

John 19:4—"Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring Him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in Him."

THREE times John affirms the sinlessness of Jesus. "Behold . . . no fault in Him." (19:4, 6; 18:38). What a coveted reputation to have! Without fault or flaw! There was no proof whatever of treason against Caesar. No fault! No crime! What a confession for a heathen monarch to make! It is possible for us to be blameless but not faultless. Jesus, however, was both blameless and faultless. In all His dealings with God and man there was absolute rectitude. So beholding Him as the sinless One, we believe Him. There He stood in Pilate's Hall, God's perfect Man—Man's perfect God. (Heb. 7:26).

As we approach the day set aside in memory of Christ's Resurrection—Behold the Lamb of God! To believe on Him as your personal Saviour means that in God's sight you become blameless because the blood of His Son is your covering for sin.

CLEVELAND, March 22—President Truman's special address to congress will mean considerably larger supplies of steel for the armed forces, the magazine Steel said today.

"Further tightening of steel supply," the trade magazine said, "possibly before the second quarter gets well under way, is anticipated as measures for stepping up domestic defense activities and extending aid to Europe accelerate.

"In his address to congress last week President Truman emphasized only the basic features of his program. * * *

"Requirements of the armed forces are due to be substantially increased. Expectations are special emphasis will be placed first on air force needs with reasonably early reflection likely in demand for alloys, special steels, etc."

The coal stoppage, too, will cut deeper into the market, the magazine continued, if it continues this week. It said:

"Some observers think the miners may not return to the pits until around April 5 after a suspension of three weeks. In event this proves the case steel mill operations will be drastically cut since coal stocks are only fair.

"During the last coal mine strike in July, 1947, steel operations dropped almost 25 points in the first week of the walkout."

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

CALL FOR "KNEE EXERCISES"

Editor of The Star: Here we are again, facing a critical situation, and are we meeting it as always, not ready? Our President told congress what he thought we should do, and to me it's just another word of mouth (as usual) suggestion for a solution. Send our youth, build up our forces, etc. Manpower this time won't amount to a snap of the fingers. It's not a small thing to deal with a nation that for years has openly defied God and all democratic ideals. They have a diabolical plot up their (loose, roomy, full of deceit) sleeves and with no fear of God or man, they will do something tricky.

God's word says what will happen to a nation and leaders that forget God. (Psalm 33:1). America in the past has had Godly, praying leaders who trusted in a Higher Power. Now our leader brings in God by word only while he hurries off to view a parade, and maybe enter a poker match somewhere in between. Here we the people are wetting our pillows by tears thinking of our young men who will soon have to go. It doesn't make sense to me, especially after reading in the Saturday Evening Post (three weeks ago issue) about our veterans of World Wars I and II. Wrecks, mentally and physically. Again, I ask, for what?

This is not a letter to excite any one politically. What difference does it make to any of us who is in Washington? God is still on the Throne. It is about time for America to do a few knee exercises to One who is able to lead us out of this mess we are in.

mocracy—at least in the beginning—because it can act fast.

By its very nature democracy is slower getting started: Divided public opinion; debate; and the whole people, more or less, wanting to be satisfied that what is done ought to be done.

Marshall points out that in a dictatorship a "small group of men may make decisions affecting the lives of millions."

Under the slower democratic process, the whole people, at least theoretically, take part in the decisions. This is the very core of democracy.

And its slowness even in time of crisis may be good, provided the decisions do what they set out to do, like preventing or winning a war.

Stumbling and fumbling, we've gone into other wars and won them. That's no guarantee we'll always win.

But since slowness is part of the democratic process, and this country wishes to keep democracy, it has to take a chance that its methods will win in the end.

WHAT FOLLOWS will give a picture of the democratic process in action and what it seems this country will take months to move against communism, if only to stop it without war.

Last June Secretary Marshall proposed his plan for this country to help Europe. Sixteen western European countries jumped at the chance. From June to January thousands of economists and other experts in the 16 countries and the United States worked on the plan.

The plan was given to congress in December. Senate and house committees held long hearings. A week ago the full senate voted for the plan. It may take the full house another week to do so.

But that's just the plan they're voting for. After that both houses will have to vote money to carry out the plan.

It may be months before Europe starts showing the effect of the help it gets under the plan.

MEANWHILE, THE EUROPEAN communists will be active. Before many months they may—just may—have taken over Italy, one of the 16 nations, and other countries.

Mr. Truman asked congress to pass two draft laws: one to build up the armed forces right away; the other to give youths military training.

But opinion in congress is divided on both ideas. No one knows how long it will take congress to act on a draft, if it does at all.

(A couple of months before Pearl Harbor congress was so split on the draft than an extension law passed the house by only one vote.)

But if congress okayed a draft law in April, it probably couldn't start working before June. If congress passes a military training law, it may take a year to start that one really going.

Democrats and Republicans may join forces on a foreign program against Communism. But this is a presidential election year.

And congressmen will have to do a lot of thinking about their own reelection and get out and work for it. The public, meanwhile, will have its attention divided between the election and foreign affairs.

94 JAPANESE GET PENALTY OF DEATH

By The Associated Press

YOKOHAMA, March 22—Ninety-four Japanese have been sentenced to death by the minor war crimes tribunals in Yokohama in the past two years for torturing prisoners of war. Five have been hanged thus far.

Many other Japanese have been executed for war crimes in China, the Philippines, southeast Asia and the Pacific Islands, no tabulation being available here.

The Yokohama courts have convicted 548 persons and acquitted 35. Eighty are currently on trial, and occupation headquarters reported it was hunting 100 suspects throughout Japan. Testimony at the trials constantly adds to the list of those wanted.

All these are so-called class B and C cases. The class A defendants are former Premier Hideki Tojo and 24 associates who have been on trial in Tokyo since June, 1946.

DONATION BY GALION WOMEN OF MOOSE

Special to The Star

GALION, March 22—Pies and cakes were baked, dinners cooked and rummage sales held, as members of Chapter 177, Women of the Moose, toiled to raise money for the recently purchased basal metabolism machine for Galion City hospital.

On several occasions the women served dinners for parties given by industrial groups of the city, to earn money for the project. Their hopes for this modern hospital machine were finally realized when the chapter treasurer wrote out a check for $230 to turn over for buying the machine. Selection of it was made by the laboratory technician Miss Helen Campeau, who uses it. It is also used by the medical staff of the hospital. Miss Naomi Weber, superintendent of the hospital, said the staff is highly pleased with the gift.

Galion members of the Women of the Moose also have contributed funds to the Mooseheart child city at Mooseheart, Ill., and to Moosehaven, home for the aged, at Orange Park, Fla. Officers of the chapter are: senior regent, Muriel Althouse; junior graduate regent, Neva Marsh; junior regent, Bernice Wells; chaplain, Helen Poole; recorder, Clara Baird; treasurer, Hazel MacFayden.

Townships Jointly Having Fire Truck

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, March 22—Complying with general expressions favoring a tax levy over the private solicitations plan, the Liberty-Sandusky Fire Protective association today announced that $10,300 raised by solicitations will be returned to donors and a two-mill tax levy will be placed on the primary ballot designed to finance purchase of a fire truck for Liberty and Sandusky townships.

The money will be returned by check to donors, Roy Welsh, president of the association said. The association has estimated that $12,000 will be needed for purchaes of the truck. A recent ruling of Ohio legislatures making it legal to place such an issue on the ballot, influenced members in the move, Welsh stated.

WINNERS IN HOLLYWOOD'S "OSCAR DERBY". Proudly holding their gold Oscars are the five principal winners in Academy Award presentations in Hollywood, Calif. Winning of Oscar Award Surprise To Loretta Young

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, March 22 — Loretta Young pointed to the Oscar and cried excitedly to newsmen: "To be perfectly honest, I never expected this in my life . . . I thought Rosalind would get it."

Rosalind Russell was sitting in the 39th row at the Academy Awards, her fingers stuffed into her ears. Not "saying a prayer," she explained afterward, "but feeling one." When she saw Loretta head for the stage she joined nearly 6,000 other spectators in roaring applause.

Miss Young's receipt of the foot-high gold statuette for the best performance by an actress in 1947 was the big upset of the 20th annual ceremonies of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. She won for her spirited portrayal of a Swedish-accented housemaid who rose to congresswoman in "The Farmer's Daughter."

Rosalind, her good friend, was the favorite in advance speculations and by four to one in a trade-paper poll, for her depiction of the tragic Lavinia in "Mourning Becomes Electra."

"Gentleman's Agreement"

Otherwise, the awards went according to forecasts. "Gentleman's Agreement," a dramatic rap at anti-semitism, was designated the best picture of last year.

Gray and Suave Ronald Colman, 57, won his first Oscar in 25 years of stardom in more than 50 pictures as the murderous stage actor in "A Double Life."

Stocky Edmund Gwenn, 70, his cheeks and bald head lipstick-smeared by the congratulatory backstage busses of Celeste Holm and other actresses, said his prize would go on his library table. There it would join the Look magazine and Hollywood Foreign Correspondents' association trophies, presented earlier this year, for performance as Kris Kringle in "Miracle on 34th Street." The Oscar is the first for Gwenn, like Colman a native of England.

Miss Holm was honored for her acting as a sophisticated fashion editor in "Gentleman's Agreement."

Accepts Tearfully

Brown-haired, blue-eyed Loretta, born Gretchen Young 35 years ago in Salt Lake City, accepted her award tearfully.

"The academy awards have been a spectator sport for me in the past," she said, "but tonight I dressed for the stage, just in case." To her Oscar, she exclaimed: "As for you—at long last!"

In addition to the best-picture and Celeste Holm awards for Gentleman's Agreement," its director, Elia Kazan, received an Oscar.

Production Chief Darryl F. Zanuck of 20th-Century-Fox said in accepting the best-film trophy: "This makes up for a sharp disappointment I suffered some years ago. I'm sure I will be forgiven for mentioning the name of that picture 'Wilson'."

Another Fox entry this year, "Miracle on 34th Street," won three awards. Besides Gwenn's one went to Valentine Davies for the best original motion picture story and another to George Seaton for the best written screen play.

"Zip-A-Dee-Doo-Dah" was voted by the 1,933 academy members to be the best original song of the year. The Allie Wrubel-Ray Gilbert composition was heard in Disney's "Song of The South."

A small party followed at the home of Edward Selzer, who produced the winning cartoon, "Tweetie Pie."

Ken Murray was given a special Oscar for producing "Bill and Coo," a picture that starred lovebirds. "Imagine!" he exclaimed, "—When so many people have given me the bird!" rhdomogjvZZanf"HuKtedb

Facts About Ambulance and Funeral Service . . .

Our new Superior Cadillac ambulance is providing the last word in transportation for invalids. And one nice thing is that it costs no more to enjoy this comfort.

This new ambulance is in keeping with what Marion families have come to expect from the Hughes Funeral Home. It began with the opening of a fine homelike place to hold funerals. It continued with the addition of year round air conditioning — then the Everett organ.

One might expect that all these things would increase the cost of service here. It hasn't worked out that way. Personal service and careful management have kept our costs below the average. You only get more for your money.

The president made his speech, Communist party organ declared, because his "election manager has demanded fire and brimstone anti-Communism and war hysteria as a means of diverting the attention of the American people from the deepening severe economic difficulties and from the lamentable results of the entire policy of the administration."

The article was written by Yevgeni M. Marinin.

PROBE "FAILURE" OF ENGLISH INSTRUCTION

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 22 — A committee of professors from 13 northern Ohio universities today began a probe of alleged "failure" in elementary and high schools to teach students proper English.

Dr. Robert L. Shurter of Case ..., president of the College English Group of Northeastern Ohio, named a review committee of four sub-panels with this objective:

"To find means to improve the quality of English instruction in the primary and secondary schools of this state."

Dr. Shurter said the action resulted from a resolution adopted by his group at Oberlin college last November, in a meeting attended by 81 professors of English from the 13 colleges. Business leaders and students' parents also joined the teachers in expressing concern over high school graduates' "deficiency" in English, he added.

"The work of the committee on ... standards for English high school teachers will be simply to find out what the present standards are, how they compare with those in other states and recommend whatever changes are deemed necessary."

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Youngster with Night Terrors

Few things are more alarming to parents than to watch a child through what is called an attack of night terrors. The child starts up in bed, cries out in fear, and gives every evidence of being completely terrified. To those looking on he seems to be wide awake, but actually he is not conscious of his ordinary surroundings and in the morning has no recollection of what has occurred.

The underlying cause of night terrors is almost always to be found in some unhappiness or insecurity in the child's life, though there are a number of more definite things which may help bring on the attacks. These include infections in the tonsils and adenoids, digestive upsets, and constipation.

It has been noted in some cases that there is a lessening of the sugar in the blood, and in these instances treatment by the giving of a glucose or sugar solution at night has been found helpful.

The attacks usually occur in children betwen five and eight years of age and come on once or twice a week. They develop during the period of deepest sleep from around a half hour to two and a half hours after the youngster goes to sleep. It is rare for more than one attack to occur a night.

It is necessary to tell the night terror attacks from nightmares. In nightmares, the child is asleep and dreaming, but the child suffering from night terrors appears to be awake and is actually in a state of semi-consciousness, in which his phantasies take the place of reality. The nightmares, as a rule, occur during a period of light sleep and afterwards the child usually wakes up.

Epileptic attacks may also occur at night, and the symptoms of such attacks may somewhat resemble those which occur in night terrors. However, in an attack of epilepsy there are convulsions, and the child usually falls into a deep sleep after an attack. Furthermore, in night terrors, convulsions or spasms of the muscles do not occur.

While the exact cause of night terrors is not known, it is thought that they develop because of some psychological disturbance. Usually, as I said earlier, the child's home life is unhappy and he does not feel secure, but uneasy and worried.

Children who have such attacks are usually described as being nervous. Thus, in treating the condition, an attempt must be made to adjust the child to his surroundings so that his feeling of insecurity and unhappiness is eliminated. The giving of sedatives or quieting drugs is of little value.

As a general rule, it is unusual for the attacks to occur for more than several weeks or months, but it must be remember that that these attacks are only a sign that something is wrong in the child's environment which should be corrected for his normal development.

EMERGENCY FOREIGN AID RECOMMENDED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22—The house appropriations committee recommended today an immediate grant of $55,000,000 to tide over Austria, France and Italy until pending long-range foreign aid legislation becomes law.

The amount was included in an emergency money bill which also carries $500,000,000 for tax refund and $125,000 for relief among Indians.

The $55,000,000 aid allotment was exactly the amount requested by President Truman several weeks ago and supplements $522,000,000 appropriated late last year for winter emergency relief.

The committee said the original $522,000,000 will be exhausted by March 25 and there will be no other funds with which to run the aid program until a European recovery bill is enacted. The latter is expected to reach the White House early in April.

In recommending the half-billion dollar tax refund appropriation, the committee in effect, admitted it erred when it cut $800,000,000 from the President's original request for about $2,000,000,000 for the payments to be made during the fiscal year ending June 30.

Talking Point

DEFEATISTS who've been saying that Russia has the inside track in power politics may have to make an exception of the three-power proposal for giving Trieste back to the Italians. The United States, Great Britain and France have hit on a good talking point in their campaign for Italian support in the election next month.

Trieste, formerly belonging to Austria, was bestowed on Italy in the territory-trading after World War I. At the end of World War II, it was set up as a free territory under the terms of the peace treaty with Italy and placed under United Nations jurisdiction. This, of course, was a blow to Italy. But it also turned out to be a blow to the western allies, because it had the effect of inviting the neighboring Yugoslavs, dominated by Marshal Tito's Russianized regime to muscle in at will. The three powers suggesting return of Trieste to Italy point out that the arrangement hasn't been working well, which is an understatement of first magnitude.

Many Italians will be overjoyed at the prospect of getting back what they think belongs to them, even though the promise of the United States, Great Britain and France, like so many political promises, is obviously for the purpose of obtaining votes and may or may not be kept, or even be keepable, when the Italian election is over.

Palestine Dilemma

THE dilemma of what to do about Palestine hasn't been helped any by the newest United States move—a proposal to abandon the United Nations partition project in favor of a temporary trusteeship, pending reconciliation between Jews and Arabs.

It means the United States favors shifting from one horn of the dilemma to the other horn—with the dilemma unchanged. The dilemma, of course, is the irreconcilable attitude of Jews and Arabs. Their differences can't be patched up any easier with a trusteeship than by the partition plan approved by the United Nations assembly last November.

The proposal by the United States does not state, incidentally, what nation would be responsible for the temporary trusteeship—whether Great Britain would be expected to stay on the scene, or whether it would withdraw in the middle of may, as planned, passing the hot potato of Holy Land strife to the United Nations. The only other government that conceivably could or would take it, under the circumstances, is the United States.

When the United Nations assembly approved the partition plan, only a month was required by members of the new Palestine commission to realize that nothing could be done without military force. It reported this to the United Nations security council, which still hasn't decided what can be done about it.

Don't Underestimate Them

RUSSIA'S power is overestimated, according to Rear Admiral Ellis M. Zacharias, the retired Navy intelligence officer who forecast the Pearl Harbor attack.

He says Russia has been industrially gutted by war, that it lacks the steel, machine tools, railways and highways to wage war. Furthermore, he says Russia is approaching political bankruptcy and believes its show of aggressiveness is a mask for weakness.

The admiral's observations on Russian industrial capacity may be correct, but his prediction of political bankruptcy is more suspect. Russia was a victor in World War II. While it may be weak, its neighbors are weaker. It is strong enough to coerce them and force communism on disillusioned millions. It can build its strength by drawing on unwilling allies.

It's easy to underestimate a potential enemy. Admiral Zacharias called the turn on Japan, but most American naval leaders expected Nippon would be a pushover. Russia may collapse from within of its own accord, but there are no indications to make such an eventuality a foregone conclusion.

Libeling Mississippi

MISSISSIPPI'S latest legalistic proposal is funnier and less sinister than the one which empowered its governor to deputize plain-clothes policemen known only to himself. The new proposal would make any radio commentator legally liable for any remarks deemed insulting to the state. This would have puzzled Edmund Burke, who said he knew of no way to draw up an indictment against a whole people; he would have been equally doubtful about the possibility of libeling a state.

Mississippians, and all others in whom regional pride burns with a hard, gem-like flame, should be less thin-skinned. If the radio carries unfavorable remarks about Mississippi, that state's citizens should study them and decide whether they are true. If they are, Mississippi should take steps to eliminate the cause of criticism. If they aren't true, the real facts will be known soon enough.

Almost every part of the common sunflower can be used: oil from its seeds for food; the whole plant cropped up as ensilage; flowers and seeds as a source of honey, and the seed containers, dried, as blotters.

Stalin May Lose Control

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

THE 'very, very serious' view which Secretary of State George C. Marshall and his chief advisers are taking of the present crisis springs in part from the belief that Soviet Premier Josef Stalin may have set in motion forces which he can no longer control. The experts are almost unanimously convinced that Stalin has no desire to provoke a war with the United States. Yet the aggressive Stalinist policy since the war has, in a sense, nudged Stalin (and with him the world) in a trap.

The nature of this trap is illustrated by what is happening, and what may happen, in Italy. Secretary Marshall has now said clearly that if the Communists gain control of the Italian government no further American material aid will be forthcoming.

This means that if Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti comes to power in Italy, he will be faced immediately with a catastrophic economic situation. The only manner in which he will be able to deal with this situation is by an absolutely ruthless dictatorship. As one observer put it: "He will have many more mouths than he can feed, and all he could do is shut them up."

Moreover, Togliatti is perfectly conscious that this is the case, he has remarked frankly to one interviewer that if American aid to Italy were cut off, a dictatorship would be essential. Yet a dictatorship sufficiently ruthless to "shut up" some millions of starving Italian mouths could hardly be achieved without civil war. And a civil war in Italy, as already pointed out in this space, could all too easily spread into a general war between East and West.

Leader Has Plan

According to one entirely reliable observer just returned from Italy, Togliatti has a plan for dealing with this danger. If the Communist - controlled front should gain over 40 per cent of the vote, the front could probably make it impossible for a non-Communist government to function. A period of chaos would then ensue. The amiable but weak Italian president, Enrico di Nivola, according to this forecast, would then call on Togliatti to form a government.

Togliatti would surprise the world by his apparent moderation. He might not demand a single cabinet seat for the Communists. Rather the cabinet would be composed of aging and feeble anti-Fascist 'intellectuals,' of the stripe of Francesco Nitti. For the Communists Togliatti would ask only minor posts—perhaps the under secretaryships of Interior, Justice and War. These ostensibly unimportant posts would be filled by young, energetic Communists, who would of course quickly assume the real authority.

This sort of window dressing could not, of course, deceive the American policy makers. Yet it would confront them with a terrible choice. Either the props could be pulled out from under the Italian economy immediately, on the assumption that American aid would be used only to fatten Italy until Togliatti found the moment ripe for taking over. Or American aid could be continued, on the theory that the threat to withdraw it would be a sort of tentative insurance against the repetition in Italy of the Czech coup.

Inherent in either choice would be a frightening risk—the risk of a disastrous strategic defeat in the contest between the Soviets and the Western world. For the fall of Italy to total Soviet domination might mean the fall of all Europe and the Near East to Moscow.

Risk of War

Yet for Stalin and the Politburo the risks are at least as terrible. For since Truman's speech to the Congress, the Kremlin must know that the extension of Soviet domination to Italy carries with it risk of war. No one can know what is in the minds of the men in the Kremlin. Yet those best fitted to judge believe that they have two main objectives in Europe. The first is the consolidation of the Soviet eastern European empire, so that ERP can not act as a magnet drawing eastern Europe out of the Soviet grasp. The second is the wrecking of ERP, so that the western European countries can never recover sufficiently to free themselves from the threat of Soviet domination by means of what Truman called "internal aggression."

Military Measures Needed Now

By Walter Lippmann

HOW promptly and unitedly the country supports the new measures will surely depend upon how convincing is the proof that they are exactly, specifically, and exclusively designed to deal with the president a candidate, uation.

Since this is an election year, with the president a candidate, and with the recollection of 1940 and 1944 in all men's minds, the people and the congress will expect guaranties that the Democrats are not going to argue that the crisis makes them indispensable and that the Republicans will not be so divided and hesitant that Mr. Truman begins to look as if he were indispensable.

National unity can best be had this year by convincing the country that American vital interests can be promoted at least as well by a change of administration as by keeping the present one.

LIPPMANN

It will also be necessary to convince the country that the military measures are related to this crisis, and not, however desirable they may be in themselves, to a relatively distant future. The administration should have no difficulty in showing that the restoration of selective service is necessary not only to bring the armed forces up to strength but to operate an expanded air force and the development of amphibious task forces.

It may have more difficulty in showing that universal military training can do anything in the present circumstances which selective service can not do more directly, more economically, and more expeditiously.

The controlling consideration now is the time required to mobilize American military power. The shorter the interval of time needed to make our potential power actual, the better will be the prospect of settling the great conflict by diplomacy and not by war. Because we are unmobilized and separated by an ocean from Europe, the critical question is whether the Soviet Union or some of its satellites will risk action, designed to present us with accomplished facts as in Czechoslovakia and Finland, which could not be repaired except by a world war.

Present Crisis

It is for the present crisis, then, not for theoretical war in 1951 or thereabouts,' that we must mobilize our military power. The crucial issues will not be decided on weapons that are still on the drawing boards and in the experimental laboratories, or by men who will begin to be trained years hence. The military showdown, which Stalin has precipitated, will be decided by the forces in being during the months immediately ahead. We must, in short, think of a mobilization for the emergency and not of a program of military preparedness in time of peace.

It is only by our mobilization that the western alliance, which has just been signed in Brussels, can be made secure. The five nations have promised to stand together. Our part is to make it certain that they can and will stand together.

This can be done only if their people know that they will not be overrun and occupied by the Red army, that they will have arms for themselves and prompt and massive American military aid in time to prevent the catastrophe of an occupation.

For the people of the continent are in no mood to resist, to be defeated and occupied, and then to be liberated for a second time. They can be counted on to support the Brussels alliance only if it offers them a much better than even chance of not being occupied.

Therefore, the value of an American guaranty of support will be measured not only in Moscow but also in Paris, Brussels, the Hague, by the tempo and the scale of our mobilization.

Restore Lend-Lease

For the same reason the restoration of selective service should be accompanied by the restoration of military lend-lease. Unless we add military lend-lease to the European Recovery Program, how can Great Britain and France develop the armed forces to carry out the pledges of their alliance?

In the Mediterranean, and especially as regards Italy, measures are called for even before our mobilization can be carried out. Italy, unlike Czechoslovakia, is not enveloped by the Red army and is quite accessible. The threat of an unopposed intervention of the Red army, which was probably decisive in Czechoslovakia, does not exist in Italy.

The problem in Italy is, therefore to make certain that the legitimate government can—and because it can, that it will—use its army and its police to crush an insurrection before the elections, or a coup d'etat after the elections aimed at control of the army, the police, and the administration of the Italian state.

It is our right and our duty to make available to the Italian government any force it may need to preserve its authority. It is our right because the Italian peace treaty stipulates that "Italy shall take all measures necessary to secure to all persons under Italian jurisdiction . . . the enjoyment" of human rights and of the fundamental freedoms.

In view of what is happening in Czechoslovakia, it is indisputable that a Communist control of the Italian government would quickly mean the violation of the peace treaty.

I don't believe he can get away with the old alibi about dropping a decimal point.

Seven million dollars is still a lot of money, even in government circles.

In fact, I don't see how anybody smart enough to make that kind of scratch could be so dumb as to think he can beat Mr. Whiskers out of his share of it.

Uncle Sam is very strict about using the mails to defraud, especially when you do it on a tax return. He'll probably give this character 20 years in solitary to brush up on his arithmetic.

In Distress

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, March 22, 1938.

The French cabinet called for an advance of 5,000,000,000 francs ($152,500,000) from the Bank of France for armament purposes while the chamber of deputies debated what a member called the danger of "swift, implacable war" waged by Germany.

City council at an adjourned meeting, upheld Mayor Frederick C. Smith's veto of an ordinance calling for the payment of back salary claims of 10 city officials and employes.

P. K. Burns, 42, manager of the Montgomery Ward Co. store here for eight years, died in a hospital at Bedford, Ind.

The Clionian club, newest study group in the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs, held its first regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Dallas Harruff on Elm street.

Mrs. Gilmore Hiett and Mrs. A. H. Koons were hostesses for the annual birthday party of the Three Arts club at the home of Mrs. Hiett on Hane avenue.

Men shed overcoats and women promenaded in short sleeved dresses as the temperature soared to 82 degrees for the warmest March day in 28 years.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, March 22, 1928.

Rev. S. S. Hardy, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, spoke to Central Junior High school pupils in assembly on "What Education Is."

Mrs. Ernest Smith of South Main street was hostess to the Quest club.

A group of friends of Mrs. Frank Mayer gave her a surprise party at her home eight miles southeast of Marion to celebrate her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. John Luvisi was elected president of the women's auxiliary of the Railway Mail association when members of the association and auxiliary were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Eldie Mason at their home on Lincoln avenue.

Two farm fires near Marion resulted in loss estimated at $6,500. The home of Roy Brown on the Marshall McKinstry farm was destroyed and seven hours later flames burst out in the large barn on the same property, destroying it and contents, making a total loss placed at $5,000. A dwelling house on the D. R. Crissinger farm east of Marion was destroyed, the loss on building and contents being estimated at $3,500. It was occupied by the family of John Whiteamire.

Louis C. Merchant, 75, for 47 years a telegraph operator on the Hocking Valley railroad, died at his home on West Washington street. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Boger of Woodrow avenue.

CROSSTOWN By Roland Coe

"Understand you called the little lady an old fuss-budget!"

"What Time Is It?"

By Frank Tripp

WHEN hours drag on one's hands it seems fully as important to know the time as when hurrying to catch a train. One of life's most constant questions is "what time is it?"

For whom does time drag more than for convalescents or those who sit with them? That's where I came in recently—as such a sitter. When Fanny or I are sick we stick together like leeches; cement our lifelong companionship in a lovely way.

TRIPP

Through the sanitarium window, at many hours of night, I found how to tell the time without a watch. For a night-hawk who functions adequately on six hours sleep, lights out early makes long and awful nights.

Peering through the dark upon the little village, I learned when people went to bed and got up. In one house, blocks away, lights went out at midnight. In another they burned till 3 a. m. It never varied much.

It would seem to me each time I awoke that welcome dawn must be ready to burst. Then I'd look at my watch and learn the horrible truth: that it was only the time that I usually go to bed.

Pretty soon I would dispense with a watch. If a glance out the window showed both lights burning it was not yet midnight. If one light was there it was between twelve and three. That meant I must try to sleep almost another night's worth.

In a cottage farther off, some poor devil had to get up at 5 a. m. to get to work. That house lighted up then. Thus I had beacons that kept me posted through the night.

By 6 a. m. I dared begin to yawn and stretch, 'cause Fanny by then might start the hour it takes her to wake up. Anyway daylight was just around the corner.

For 6 o'clock there was an audible signal, like a foghorn on a troubled sea. That's when the men at the powerhouse opened a valve and let the steam burst forth to clean the pipes or something.

Boy, but that was a welcome sound. It meant the toughest part of my 24-hour job once more neared its end. Very soon I could get up. Then I'd think, 'you sap, how often you would have given your right arm for another hour's sleep.' We're funny creatures.

Animals carry no timepiece but they always know the time. Where I whiled away those nights reviewing my sins, the days were brightened by a sleek and knowing gray squirrel. He not only knew the time but he knew where to go at the right time.

At a certain sanitarium window he would appear each morning. By then the breakfast tray which fed a shut-in had been cleared away and there would be a morsel for him. He'd climb the screen and rattle it to announce his arrival, then take his ration and depart to other windows he knew well.

At one, a motherly old lady who will spend her remaining days shut in her room waited with another piece of crisp toast. I thought how much his visit meant to her. She was so lonely. Someone may care for her but they seem to confine their affection to greeting cards which lined her room. They didn't discommode themselves to come to see her much—but the squirrel did, every day.

I pondered about it. The squirrel didn't deserve much credit. He came because the kind old lady had something to give him. If she had something to give her human kin, they'd come to—and often.

So the squirrel went from window to window to collect his fare. Each was the window of a lonesome soul. The windows of those of wealth and plenty got no calls from him. He was beneath their notice. How well God has planned things!

The gray fellow was a wise fellow. He liked to carry his crusts away but he took no chance on being hemmed in on his racket.

One morning a piece of toast and a cracker awaited him on the same window sill. He tried to carry off both. He couldn't make it. So he started away with the toast, intending to come back for the cracker, no doubt.

Promptly he returned with the toast, deposited it on the sill, while he ate the cracker, then beat it with the toast.

Who says animals don't reason? Only squirrels aren't animals; they're just rodents—edible ones.

Imaginary Conversation: The Leaders and the President

IT IS reported that leading powers in the Democratic party convinced that Truman cannot be reelected will try to get him to withdraw.' —News Item.)

First Leader—The question before us is how to get Harry to retire. With Wallace splitting the party, we have got to have a glamour candidate.

Second Leader—I tell ya, Harry will never take a powder.

First Leader—Why not? I think he really hates the job.

Third Leader—Sure he hates it, but he's got pride, ain't he? He knows all he gets out of that job is headaches, ulcers and aching feet, but he will never walk out in the middle of the act.

PHILLIPS

First Leader—We have got to convince him. Maybe we can get the doctors to say his health requires that he give it up.

Second Leader—Could we get the wife to work on him? I hear she doesn't like the White House.

First Leader—That was before she got the new kitchen.

Second Leader—Could we feed him up on a lot of stuff about the beauties of Missouri? Make him homesick? Make him yearn for the old haberdashery days?

Fourth Leader—How about getting some big-time gents furnishing house to offer him a partnership?

Second Leader (brightly)—We could fix it to name him czar of the haberdashery industry.

First Leader—How about Czar of the movies or baseball or the garment industry? We've found an out for plenty of our boys by that route.

Third Leader—We could raise money and buy him the Metropolitan Opera House.

Second Leader—What for?

Third Leader—For Margaret.

First Leader—Naw. We gotta sit down with him and tell him candidly that while he is a swell fellow, as loyal as they come and all that, things have shaped up so he owes it to the party to make way for somebody with more zipperoo.

Third Leader—He won't do it. Didja ever see a pitcher step out of the box of his own accord?

Second Leader—I like Harry, and he's doing his best, which is plenty good. But we ain't got a chance with him with all the bad breaks. We gotta sell him on the idea that he can avoid the embarrassment of a licking by getting out with dignity before the nominations. It's the only way we can keep Wallace from splitting the vote wide open.

Fourth Leader—Harry will never quit because of Wallace. He loathes the guy.

Third Leader—Well, just the same, we gotta go over and see Harry and tell him how it is.

First Leader—Did you ever see a Missouri man real mad?

Third Leader—No.

First Leader—You will!

He quotes, with airs, in foreign tongues
Bon mots profound and bright;
He smugly thinks I don't catch on
And hang it all, he's right.

PIER.

"Wanted—Old farmhouse, with old furniture and china. Would also like pretty plates, saucers, steins, vases, linens and glassware over 25 years old. If you have any old cupboards, dry sinks, tables, chairs or lamps over 50 years old I would like them. M. Crocker, 367 Elm, New Haven."—Connecticut Market Bulletin.

Just fed up on the new look, eh?

Things at the St. Patrick Day dinner passed off without trouble, as President Truman could not ask for an orange sherbert.

Sniff! Sniff!

Two physicians, Sidney and Philip Joff, have discovered a way to preserve flowers so that they may be kept a lifetime without the loss of anything but fragrance. A bridal bouquet may be hauled out at the golden wedding looking as beautiful as the day it was bought. This should at least end the argument over whether an aspirin tablet in the water helps any.

* * *

Wordsworth, contemplating the non-deteriorating posies, might put it:

I wandered lonely as a cloud
That floats on high o'er vales and hills,
When all at once I saw a crowd,
A host of golden daffodils;
Within the window they were hung—
AND FOR THEIR AGE THEY LOOKED QUITE YOUNG!

Minorities

By TRUMAN TWILL

IN THIS country a citizen who doesn't belong to a minority with an ax to grind might as well wrap himself in the American flag and be a patriot. The minority fad is to get so preoccupied with being against something that there's no time left to think about being for something—least of all the good old U S A itself.

If honest confession is good for the soul this writer is a member of these minorities:

1. The anti-vitamin minority, which preaches that vitamin hucksters are over-selling their product and that vitamins are not a satisfactory substitute for normal habits of life.

2. The middle-sized town minority, which preaches that people who live in towns that are too big or towns that are too small are missing half the fun of being alive and should have their teeth kicked in for denying it.

3. The anti-exercise minority, which will fight to its last drop of perspiration to keep exercise fanatics from bulldozing people with anything that smacks of muscle-building or increasing the circulation of the blood unnaturally.

4. The anti-hoity-toity minority which feels like kicking swiftly in the place traditionally reserved for kicking the too-too drippers and snoolers who foist off precious nonsense on people in the name of art.

5. The anti-stuffed-shirt minority, which can spot a stuffee at 50 paces and reserves the right to make bitter asides and give out with nervous laughs when the ridiculous thing tries to mistake a human being.

6. The anti-cucumber minority, which will insist to the last excruciating convulsion of an abused stomach that cucumbers should be barred from public sale to foolish human beings who might eat them under the delusion that they are edible.

7. The anti-radio minority, which holds that this marvelous device should be turned on occasionally lest it invade the sanctity of the home with sounds and ideas which, if perpetrated by an actual guest would cause him to be given the heave-ho outside where he belonged.

8. The anti-minority minority, which believes that the worst thing that can happen to a free country is for its citizens to forget they are first of all beneficiaries of the freedom and tolerance that minority groups are doing their level best to destroy by putting loyalty to minorities ahead of everything else, including their neighbors' inalienable rights.

Which would indicate that all us 1948 intellectuals talk like brewery wagon pilots did back in 1898—cuss words excluded.

Lewis doesn't want to call out the militia to rescue grammar from the common people. He thinks it is a healthy situation, because language is normally a dynamic, changing thing. He even has written a book called "How to Speak Better English" which advocates a "new look" in grammar and the junking of many old classroom rules.

Do you break your childhood training by saying "it's me," "who are you talking to" or "Can I have a piece of cake?"

"The reason Shakespeare would sound like a Kentucky hillbilly," he said, "is that the mountain people have been the most isolated from change and therefore speak the nearest thing to Elizabethan English."

Lewis is firmly convinced that the common man's grammatical boner today is the sophisticated speech of tomorrow.

"The best guide is to speak like the educated people around you," he said. "If you try to observe outdated textbook rules you may become a stutterer — through worrying more about the form of what you want to say rather than the content.

"YOU RUN THE RISK of becoming a linguistic schizophrenic."

This means you won't know from saying, and your mouth will get tied up in words.

Lewis said that college professors, philologists and other language scholars were the most liberal on grammar changes and that editors and business men were the most conservative.

"There is no arbitrary line drawn by one person," he said, "but there is a natural line which the language has reached at any time. To the educated man this is somewhere between the restrictions of yesterday and the freedoms that will come tomorrow."

Lewis prefers the elastic rules on grammar because he had bad times as a student himself.

"IT TOOK ME NINE years to get my college degree," he smiled. "I flunked biology six times. Now it's my favorite reading."

Where do you draw the line on what is or isn't the king's English? Lewis listed these as definitely still illiterate:

"Can you learn me to skate?"

"Lay down for a nap."

"Leave me go."

"Them there books."

"He ain't going to do it no more."

"He don't live here."

But couldn't a student who used these terms dawdle along until they were acceptable and then graduate with honors in English.

"Perhaps," said Lewis, "if he didn't mind waiting fifty years."

Why are more people achieving
MORE SECURITY
through
EQUITABLE POLICIES
than ever before?

SECURITY for our families and for ourselves is a goal all of us are striving to attain.

If these were normal times, this one fact might fully account for the record volume of Equitable life insurance purchased last year.

But the conditions under which we now live provide additional reasons why so many thinking Americans are investing more of their dollars in life insurance. Think for a moment in terms of yourself:

You are living in a period of inflation—of high prices and high taxes. Never has the purchasing power of your dollar been less for most of the things you buy. What would happen if you put more of your spendable dollars in life insurance?

With your very first premium you receive immediate protection—a guarantee of security that can't be obtained in any other way. It would take years of self-denial and saving to accumulate the amount of security that is provided at once through a life insurance policy.

Moreover, the benefits which you or your family will receive from your policy will come, in all likelihood, at a time when the dollar has regained a more normal purchasing power. In this respect, life insurance paid for today is bargain protection for the future.

EQUITABLE FAMILY GROWS

The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States—a non-profit institution operated solely in the interests of its policyholders and their beneficiaries—has been helping families build security since 1859.

More people purchased more protection through Equitable policies last year than ever before. New insurance issued amounted to $1,170,000,000. A total of $11,944,000,000 of insurance in force now safeguards the Equitable family of policyholders.

In line with this increase in protection, the resources of The Equitable Society increased $322,400,000 to $4,505,000,000, a new high.

Benefit payments last year from policies that were called upon to fulfill the purposes for which they were purchased, amounted to $280,685,000.

FIGHTING INFLATION

Money used to purchase life insurance is non-inflationary, since premium payments represent funds diverted from consumption into channels of investment, where they help to increase the nation's industrial productivity.

Inflation is the enemy of everyone.

The primary source of inflation in this country is the excessive supply of money and credit in our commercial banking system, reflecting unsound national monetary policies.

If we are to solve the inflation problem, we must first of all deal with this excessive supply of money in our banking system.

It is useless to try to control prices through rationing, or through increased production, when the creation of money in the form of bank credit goes on uncontrolled. It is like fighting fire with one hand while the other hand pours on additional fuel.

Inflation can be restrained at its primary source if enough citizens, motivated by self-interest and recognition of the need for preserving the economic strength of the nation, make their demand for sound monetary policies known to those who represent them in Congress.

Hostesses for tonight are Mrs. Mildred Sidenstricker, Mrs. Joseph Wertheimer and Mrs. Harry Tuttle. In his morning message Rev. Mullet declared, "There are a lot of people today, who are not saved, to whom the preaching of the cross does not mean anything. It is because they have never been born again.

"Jesus is not Lord at all until He is Lord of all. We are not fully saved by Christ until we are fully controlled by Christ. No man calleth Jesus, Lord, but by the Holy Spirit."

At the evening service he spoke about Christ coming again. He said there are 318 verses in the Bible that speak of the second coming of Christ.

Holy Week Services Launched at Epworth

Services Sunday at Epworth Methodist church launched the Holy week services for which Dr. Hazen G. Werner of Drew theological seminary, Madison, N. J., was brought here as special speaker. The Palm Sunday church school attendance reached 982, and more than 700 heard Dr. Werner speak on "Tragedy and Triumph" at the morning worship service. His subject last night was "Is the Rosebush Dead?" Services will be each night through Thursday at 8 o'clock. Tonight Dr. Werner will speak on "The Road Is Better Than the Inn."

In his introduction to his Palm Sunday morning message, Dr. Werner spoke on the events of Christ's entry into Jerusalem from the points of view of a modern newspaper man and of a historian, then described the scenes as Christ must have viewed them. In the acclaim of the throng Christ saw shallowness, the "tragedy of stupidity," as it happens also today, "good people often becoming victimized by evil," and the "tragedy of unreality, people so frequently unable to meet the situation responsibly . . . meeting stern circumstainces by wishful thinking."

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

FOR an instant my husband fairly goggled at me. Then something very like a bellow burst from his lips.

"You've gone crazy with the heat—or the humidity—or something," he said. "Even Georges couldn't think up anything as cock-eyed as that one."

His voice ran down, and his eyes looked at me appraisingly.

"But you don't look as if you were crazy," he said. "Perhaps I'd better listen to you."

"It might be wise," I said dryly.

"Okay, rub it in. You've got it coming to you," he said. "But for the love of all the patriarchs, give out. I'm limbering up my right fist and my kicking foot right now."

"You'll need them," I said grimly, and then gave him a "round-by-round" verbatim account of my interview with Georges, and the astounding things the royal playboy had told me.

When I had finished, Dicky sat in apparently stunned silence for at least two seconds. Then he sent out a low-toned but intense stream of invective, surpassing anything I ever had heard from him.

"Sorry, Sweet," he said when he had run down.

"Don't apologize!" I said. "I loved it. I think it was your best effort so far, and it has freed me of a lot of words which I otherwise would have had to keep bottled up inside me."

"You'd have exploded all over the place, if you suppressed that vocabulary," my husband said, and there was a sheepish pride in his voice which made it difficult for me to control my risible. But Dicky now had time neither for laughter nor for wrath. He leaned forward, and looked intently at me.

"I'm so completely knocked out, I'm not sure I heard you correctly," he said. "I promise not to explode again, but I wish you'd repeat what you just said, very slowly."

"And in words of one syllable?" I asked, wrinkling my nose at him, for his explosive profanity had listened my spirits immensurably.

"Not more than two," he retorted, and I repeated my saga again. This time he said nothing for almost half a minute, and stared into space, with a face so grim, that I began to feel a sneaking sympathy for Georges. The fugitive king evidently was going to get the "hiding," verbal or physical, which he had been needing for so long.

"I'm afraid," Dicky said at last, "that the Chief's going to have his schedule delayed for a half hour or so. He wanted me to rush you back as soon as you had slipped off the feed bag, but he's going to possess his dear old soul in patience and like it. I'm going of have to take some time to digest this, and enlist 'K's' aid."

"Oh surely!" I exclaimed, horrified, "you're not going to tell 'K' any of this!"

He gave me a withering look.

"How long do you think it's going to be before Georges spills his insides to 'K' about this?" he asked. "But I'm not going to ladle out much to 'K', just enough to have him prepared to shut Georges' mouth effectively, with any means handy, should our royal playboy give any indication that he's going to weep on 'K's' shoulder, and dish out his woes.

"Also," he went on, "I want 'K' to have his good right arm handy. By the time I get through with what I have to say to Georges, his Royal Highness may try to hang me at the yard arm, and I may need 'K's' assistance. Do you object to that?"

"I don't object to anything," I said a bit wearily, "as long as Georges is properly disciplined."

"How would you like to have a hidden box seat for the show?" Dicky asked abruptly.

CAR INSURANCE RATES GO UP

New Charges Effective Today; Drivers Under 25 Get Biggest Boost.

The National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, 60 John street, New York, announced a revision of automobile liability insurance rates, effective today, which is stated to be part of a countrywide program to realign rates by states and by areas within states in accordance with the most recent available accident reports. The new rate affects approximately half the companies operating in Ohio. Companies not presently affected to follow suit.

Bodily injury rates for private passenger and commercial cars remain unchanged but property damage rates for private passenger cars are increased an average 31 per cent and commercial cars 13.8 per cent.

A new classification of private passenger cars has been introduced to apply where non-business use cars are driven by persons under 25 years of age. The rate for this class will be within 5 per cent of the rate for business operation.

The reason given for the new class of coverage for persons under 25 is that this age group which includes well under 20 per cent of the nation's drivers were involved in more than 25 per cent of the nation's accidents during the period on which the report is based, and accidents by persons in this age group accounted for 63 per cent of the cost of repair resulting from accidents. Repair costs are up over 200 per cent while hospital costs are 20 per cent above the 1944 level. Private passenger car registrations nationally are up 9 per cent while personal injury and property damage accidents increased 4½ per cent.

According to the report this combination of facts indicates first of all that insurance in this area will generally rise in cost and persons under 25 years of age, despite a new coverage classification applying to them, are going to have difficulty in securing public liability and property damage insurance.

A 31 per cent increase in private passenger car rates for the three most popular types of property damage coverage boosts the new rates from $10.50 to $13.75 on $5,000 to $10,000 coverage for private cars driven not more than 7,500 miles a year, $11.50 to $15 for regular operation over 7,500 miles per year, and for business operation from $13.50 to $17.70. These rates are for the city of Marion and all territory within five miles of the city.

The country rate, which prevails anywhere in the county more than 5 miles outside Marion, shows an increase on cars driven less than 7,500 miles a year, from $10 to $13.10, unlimited mileage operation $11 to $14.40 and on business use from $13 to $17. All the above rates are for property damage only and do not include public liability.

Mrs. Jasper Hill was in charge of a program in keeping with St. Patrick's day. Mrs. Irene Baumgardner and William Knowles conducted a bird contest and there was a discussion on how to interest members who have ceased to attend Grange meetings.

Glenford, Smallest School, Is Biggest Favorite in "B" Tourney

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio Associated Press Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., March 22—The smallest high school is the biggest favorite in the class B division of the 1948 Ohio high school basketball race.

That's Glenford of Perry county, a village of 231, which proved its cage class by taking the 1941 championship and is knocking at the throne room door again with 35 victories in 36 starts.

Arrayed against the Glenfords are North Canton (pop. 2988), Eaton (pop. 3552), and Lima St. Rose, made up of Catholic students from the city of 44,711.

Findlay's Trojans, undefeated in 25 straight, carry the best class A record into the state finals April 1, 2 and 3, but the Trojans found a year ago that unblemished marks are not invincible in the big classic. In 1947 the Findlays reached the state meet with a clean record, but the title went to Middletown, loser seven times during the season.

Shy About Trojans

That's why some experts are a bit shy about picking the Trojans this year. Hamilton Catholic, winner of 26 to 27 games, and Canton South, formerly Canton township, with 23-1, gained stature in Saturday's regional championships with impressive wins. So did Coshocton, which has dropped five of 24 games.

Hamilton Catholic defeated Miamisburg 46-40 to erase the team which halted unbeaten Middleton in district play, pushing the defending champions out of the flag chase. Canton South came up with the No. 1 surprise, however, a 45-26 win over favored Canton McKinley. The latter school had sent five teams to the state final game but never had won the crown.

Coshocton needed an overtime to oust Akron South 42-40, in an unusual fray. Akron South led 21-20 at the half, and outscored the Coshoctons 17-12 in field goals. But Coshocton cashed 18 of 33 free throws while Akron was making six of 13, and that was the ball game.

Findlay showed its finest form in annihilating Toledo Central Catholic 60 to 28.

Should Hamilton Catholic win the class A crown, it will be the first parochial school to turn the trick, although three class B titles have gone to Catholic schools, setting a precedent for Lima St. Rose.

Glenford Won 50-31

Little Glenford, paced by All-Ohio center Glen Hursey, wheeled into the state meet with a 50-31 win over Lucasville; North Canton, the 1939 class B king, defeated Midvale, 47-43; Eaton eliminated Lockland Wayne's all-Negro team 36-34, sinking 14 of 22 free throws after being outscored 14-11 in field goals; and, Lima St. Rose ousted Holgate 46-42.

The pairings for the state meet will be made at 11 a. m. Wednesday in the offices of state high school commissioner H. W. Emswiler. An unseeded draw will be made in each division. The class B semi-finals will be held Thursday, April 1; the class A semi-finals Friday, April 2, and the finals in each class on Saturday, April 3. One game will be played each afternoon, and one each evening.

During the first 25 years of the state tourney, no team from Cincinnati, Toledo, Columbus, Cleveland, Youngstown or Canton has been able to win the class A crown. Cleveland clubs have not competed in the tourney for several years.

BAUMHOLTZ IS SURE CINCINNATI STARTER

By The Associated Press

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22—Manager Johnny Neun of the Cincinnati Reds has picked only one regular for his 1948 lineup.

Neun brought the Redlegs here today for their fourth clash with the world champion New York Yankees. He said:

"Frankie Baumholtz is my starting right fielder, and you can quote me as saying this:

"As far as the rest of my lineup is concerned, I still have an open mind. Remember, we still have 26 exhibition games to play. A lot of things can happen in that time.

"However, I will say that Howard Fox, Red Stallcup and Hank Sauer have done everything I expected them to do so far. They look like real major leaguers to me."

Fox teamed with Johnny Vander Meer yesterday to limit the Boston Red Sox to five hits while the Reds won, 4 to 1. Virgil Stallcup is the rookie shortstop, up from Jersey City, who is working to fill the spot formerly held by Eddie Miller, and Sauer is an outfielder, brought up from Syracuse where he batted .336 while driving in 141 runs last year.

Neun named Kenny Raffensberger, who joined the Reds last year from Philadelphia, and veteran Harry Gumbert to hurl against the Yanks today.

In their last meeting, the Reds landed on the Yanks 10-2, but the champions hold a 2-1 edge in the series.

The Rhinelanders took over the Red Sox yesterday for their seventh Grapefruit league victory. Fox gave only two hits in five innings and Vander Meer set the Sox down in order in the sixth and seventh innings. Grady Hatton powered a homer in the first innings and drove the second run in with a sixth inning double.

The Red Sox, playing without injured regulars Ted Williams, Sam Mele and Vernon Stephens, scored in the ninth after Rookie left fielder George Wilson doubled off Vander Meer.

New Leaders Reign In ABC Tourney

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, March 22—The insecurity of leaders in the American Bowling Congress tournament was evident today after a weekend of shufflings on the big boards.

Dr. Michael Krupa, Chicago dentist, and his brother, Bruno, a pharmacist, took the doubles lead with 1286.

The tourney's first singles 700 now also graces the board—a 709 contribution from Nick Miller, Massillon, Ohio, railroad switchman, which gave him the solo division lead.

William Gregory of Mount Vernon, O., still retained his all events lead with 1913.

FROM all hands comes the opinion that this year's Golden Gloves boxing tournament was the best ever held in Marion . . . So said Joe Yannitel chairman of the annual event sponsored by the Y's Men's club, so said referee and boxing promoter Jimmy Williams, and so said many others . . . One of the few kicks registered was that some boys had to fight two bouts on final night Friday . . . Welterweight Harold Waits, for example, decisioned Buck Rogers in an early bout Friday, and then had to return later to fight Jack Seckinger . . . He lost the second bout by a decision . . . But his handicap was unavoidable, since Seckinger too had an earlier bout scheduled, but his opponent failed to show up . . . Otherwise, both finalists would have met on even terms . . . Another kick was that some boys went through to the finals without meeting an opponent, and two boys won their division championships without fighting at all . . . But if not enough opponents, or none at all are entered, there is nothing the matchmakers can do about it.

CAPACITY CROWDS fill the Armory every night, and about 300 were turned away Friday . . . Next year, the Y's Men hope to hold the tournament in the coliseum, where plenty of people can watch the show.

THE LOCAL tournament may be over, but not the fight training, if Jimmy Williams, Jack Lewis, Al Van Fossen, and Howard Hodges have anything to say about it . . . These four men trained a good share of the Marion boxers and were quite pleased with the showing the local boys made . . . They plan to continue training all through the year and hold fight shows every couple of weeks in the hopes boxing will become a big sport in Marion . . . They've called for all local boxers to come to the Y.M.C.A. at 7:30 tonight for a training session . . . The four men all began training boxers in December for a fight show which was held in Schwinger's Annex in January . . . Another was held a month later . . . Last week they formed into the Marion Association of Trainers, and all felt that the pre-Glovers boxing shows helped their boys in the tournament . . . Among the boys they worked with were Joe Neidig, who won the lightweight title, Jack Seckinger, welterweight champ, Ernest Arcuri, middleweight finalist decisioned for the title by Galion's Charles Farina, Carroll Combs, who gave Neidig a battle in the finals, Buck Rogers, Richard James, Bobby and Billy Hunt, Leslie Gorrell, Charles Ludwig, Willard Dixon, Jim Long.

DODDS' SUCCESSOR MAY BE GEHRMANN

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 22—Wisconsin's Don Gehrmann may be the successor to Gil Dodds as America's mile-run king.

Gehrmann's 4:12 triumph in the Bankers' mile of the Chicago relays Saturday night was overshadowed by Harrison Dillard's record smashing 60-yard high hurdles triumph for his 31st win without defeat.

But some experts among the capacity Chicago stadium crowd of 16,471 felt that the erstwhile erratic Gehrmann proved he finally has mastered pace making and may give Dodds a run for his money hereafter.

Gehrmann, whose tremendous finish "kick" is probably the best of any American distance performer, ran fourth most of the Bankers' mile and then in the final lap cut loose to win by 15 yards from National A.A.U. champion Tommy Quinn. His time was 4:12 minutes.

Only 19, the 140-pound Gehrmann has been slow learning that there is more to the mile than the finish. Unlike Dodds, who was a spectator at the Stadium Saturday night because of his recent attack of mumps, Gehrmann disdains setting the pace.

Dillard was clocked in :07.1 shaving one tenth of a second from the American indoor record he shared with Fred Walcott of Rice. Bill Porter of Northwestern gave Dillard a terrific scrap, as expected, but couldn't match the speedy Negro's victory lunge at the tape.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton, jr.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 22—After the first spring training clash between the Yankees and Red Sox, Yank Manager Bucky Harris commented in aggrieved tones: "Those fellows really were trying to beat me." . . . Bucky's idea of training seems to be to try out his younger players while the older ones are leisurely getting themselves into condition . . . But Joe McCarthy never could see the point of playing any game without going all out to win and, besides, he's trying to weld a lot of high class material into one winning team . . . The result of this clash of opposite viewpoints may be a "feud" that will keep things lively throughout the American league season, unless the Indians and Tigers prove strong enough to gum up the two-way pennant struggle.

DON CAMPBELL, Colorado U. sprinter who suffered a bad leg wound during the war, appears to be the real hard-luck guy of the track world—and that takes in Gil Dodds' case of mumps, too . . . Last spring Don went on an AAU tour of Australia . . . On his return, he tried to demonstrate the Australian "fling finish" and pulled a leg muscle . . . Later in the trials of the National Collegiate A. A. meet Campbell ran a 9.5 hundred yards, then pulled the same muscle in the 220-yard heat . . . Last month Don pulled the same muscle once more in the heats of the Big Seven indoor meet, costing Colorado a chance for the team title . . . Now he's just hoping it will hold up for the outdoor season and the Olympic trials.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 22—The Pittsburgh Pirates departed from Hollywood on a high note today after blanking the St. Louis Brown, 2 to 0 behind Kirby Higbe and Elmer Singleton.

The Pirates capitalized on 12 walks and five hits off Brownie hurlers Fred Sanford, Cliff Fannin and Ray Shore.

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, March 22—Jackie Robinson's first appearance at second base for the Brooklyn Dodgers was labeled a success today although Manager Leo Durocher claimed the move had no special significance.

Robinson fielded his position acceptably and hit a home run as Brooklyn defeated the Dominican All-Stars, 8 to 7. Durocher said that Robinson, who played first base last season, was moved to second because injuries forced a shake-up of the Dodger infield.

MIZE JOLTS TRIBE WITH 2 HOMERS

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 22 — The Cleveland Indians knew today why homer-hitting Johnny Mize joined the "31 Club" last season.

For the brawny New York Giants' first baseman flexed his muscles twice yesterday, and sent towering homers over the Wrigley Field walls to spark the National leaguers' 14-5 trouncing of the Tribe. It was a pattern that Mize repeated 31 times for the Giant clubbers in 1947.

Mize rapped Bob Feller's outside fast ball in the second for a tremendous grand slam homer over the left field wall. The drive tallied four runs and gave the New Yorkers a safe, 6-0 lead. Big John then insured the victory with a two-run blast into the right field bleachers in the fourth.

Three Cleveland rookie pitchers also had the misfortune to face the Giants on one of their clubbing days. Gene Bearden was cuffed for three runs, including circuit blows by Mize and Bobby Thawn, in three innings of hurling.

Manager Lou Boudreau and Ken Keltner paced the Indians' nine-hit, five-run attack with two bingles apiece.

Bob Lemon was slated to start for the Indians today against the rebuilt St. Louis Browns, followed by Steve Gromek and Les Webber.

The Tribe's most prominent ex-officio Redskin — Hammering Hank Greenberg — was to play first base for Cleveland's "B" team today in an exhibition tilt against the classy University of Southern California team. Greenberg volunteered for the sub first baseman tryout after Eddie Robinson hurt his knee. He still is unsigned.

Roxy Grill, Tiffin Behm's, Schlairet, Prospect All Stars Win "Y" Games

Four games in the Y. M. C. A. Gold Medal basketball tournament played Saturday showed Roxy Grill the winner over Universal Cooler, 50-47, Prospect All-Stars over Claridon Ex-Reds, 45-43, Tiffin Behm's in a romp with Prospect Merchants, 69-22, and Schlairet dumping Ada Farmer's Exchange, 63-40.

Roxy, paced by Bill Blair, 23, and Sherry Rowland, 12, edged Cooler by counting 24 fielders to 23, and two gift shots to one for the Cooler combine. Weaver was the big gun for Cooler with a hefty 20 points. Reid ran second with eight.

Prospect All-Stars had a narrow squeek with a tough Claridon five as both teams racked 18 from the field. Prospect grabbed their winning margin at the foul line by dropping nine attempts while Claridon hit on seven. Kessler and Smith with 13 points each, and Oehler with 10 points paced the winners. G. Ruth with 19 and J. Ruth with 16 were high for the losers.

Tiffin Behm's had a relatively easy time with the Prospect Merchant team, with Zackie hitting on 12 fielders and one foul for a 25 point total. Gerald contributed 13 to the winner's total. Prospect ran about even in scoring with four men each getting four points.

England was high for the Schlairet team with 14 points in their victory over Ada, and Weaver was second with 13. Craft paced the losers with seven points.

49 Firemen Hurt By Pitch in Beer Cases

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, March 22—Lt. Lewis Odom was the only one of 49 firemen overcome yesterday in a fire at the old Columbus brewery. The others were released after treatment. Odom's condition was listed as "fair."

Firemen, describing the blaze "one of the worst in several years," estimated damage at only $1,010. The fire started among 35,000 old beer cases stacked in a sub-basement of the building, now owned by August Wagner Breweries, Inc.

"The peculiar thing was that the men didn't pass out until they had come out of the basement and taken two or three breaths of fresh air," District Chief Samuel H. Zaayer said.

He theorized that pitch in the old beer cases produced alcoholic fumes which poisoned the firemen. Fire Chief Clarence W. Ogburn was among those treated.

Friday at 11:25 a. m. a car driven by Max Beck of 300 West Columbia street and one driven by Sherman C. Swearingen of 469½ North Prospect on East Center at State streets were in a slight collision.

PORT HURON, Mich., March 22—Three-year-old George Meldrum alone survived a fire which swept a makeshift second floor apartment home Sunday, taking the lives of his parents and two small sisters.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 22—The stock market today hits its fastest stride in almost a year but trends were far from unanimous.

Heavy dealings shortly after the opening put the ticker tape three minutes behind for the first time since last May. There were subsequent slowdowns. Blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares changed hands.

While gains running to a point or so were well distributed near midday, numerous pivotals skidded into minus territory.

Ahead most of the time were Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Goodrich, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Oiler Corp., International Harvester, Boeing, Phelps Dodge, American Can, Dow Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide, United Air Lines and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Occasional stumblers were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Illinois Central, U. S. Steel, Consolidated Edison, Anaconda, Mission Corp. and Douglas Aircraft.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

SENATOR ARTHUR VANDENBERG, born March 22, 1884, in Grand Rapids, Mich., jumped from journalism to politics 20 years ago. He is chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and is discussed as possible presidential timber despite his refusal to let Michigan Republicans boom his nomination for the 1948 Republican candidacy. He helped forge the United Nations charter and was credited with playing a big part in winning senate approval.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Television made immense strides over the weekend but there are complaints from tavern patrons that Toscanini can't wrestle.

In fact when Arturo stepped forward on the screen in one bar, a customer took in the white tie and tails and called, "Over here with the check Mac, and make it snappy!"

When Petrillo lifted the ban on music on television it was the biggest entertainment news since the bulletin "Garbo Talks" flashed from coast-to-coast.

I won't say it means the end of radio but I heard that several commentators have sent for the Fuller Brush company's salesman's manual.

Petrillo's ruling resolves some of the doubts of the presidential campaign . . . A candidate will be permitted to play piano in television.

And better still . . . we'll be permitted to listen.

Between 1939 and 1940 France had a population loss of a million men and half a million women.
